A verdict for Downing Bros. of Plainfield, the plaintiffs, was given by the jury in the common pleas court at New London on Wednesday morn-ing in the suit that they had brought against Calvin Wilcox and wife of Shewville.

Before the case went to the jury, the President A. S. Comstock of th water board was present and the re judge suggested, and the counsel agreed, that the question in the case was whether the trust deed that Mr. Wilcox had given to his wife was a fraud against Downing Bros. and the creditors of Mr. Wilcox.

Two questions were given to the jury to answer, whether there had been actual fraud by intent in giving the trust deed and whether there had been constructive fraud. The jury's verdict that was returned was not for any marting amount but was not for any specific amount, but was the answer "Yes" to the first question, and this will now serve, it is stated, as the basis for a court judgment giving equitable relief to the plaintiffs.

Attorneys J. J. Desmond for the defeated of Townson W. Perking for fendant and Edmund W. Perkins for the plaintiffs made their arguments to the jury on Wednesday, as Attorneys Telley E. Babcock and Allyn L. Brown for defendant and plaintiffs, respect-ively, had presented their arguments on Tuesday.

WEDDINGS. Bond-Howland

The marriage of Harriet Learned Howland, daughter of Mrs. Bela P. Learned, and Henry R. Bond, Jr., of New London, was solemnized at 4 p. m. Wednesday, at the home of the Scatland

Learned, and Henry R. Bond, Jr., of New London, was solemnized at 4 p. m. Wednesday, at the home of the bride, Fairview farm, on the Scotland road. The Rev. B. H. Howe, pastor of Park Congregational church, Cfficiated at the impressive ceremony, assisted by Rev. J. Romeyn Danforth, pastor of the First Congregational church, New London.

As the Bridal Chorus from Lobengrin was rendered by a New York orchestra of nine pieces, the bride, accompained by her brother. Eben Learned, who was to give her away, came down the stairway where white carnations twined the railing, preceded by the maid and matron of honor, and the children, Learned and Grosvenor Ely, with orchids, passing, passing through the aisle of American beauty roses to the arch in the reception hall, meeting the groom and his best man, where the ceremony was performed in the presence of three hundred guests.

The bride was most charming in a gown of rare old lace over lavender cloth of silver and embroidered with seed pearls. She carried a shower bouquet of lavender orchids and ferns. The maid of honor, Miss Betty Howland, daughter of the bride, were a Lucille gown of yellow and pink chiffon over cloth of silver. Her hat was of black tulle and her shower bouquet of pink orchids. Hundreds of orchids sent by Mr. and Mrs. Morton F. Plant were used in decoration. The arch where the ceremony was performed was beautiful with white Canterbury bells, on eith-er side Easter lilles and white carnations. The long feathery fronds of the cybothium fern and sweeping sprays of the asparagus fern were in contrast to the white blossoms. In the parior the mantel was banked with white roses while orchids wreathed the pier glass. The blue of larkspur and the pink Canterbury bells added a note of color. In the fireplace in the library were ferns and palms and white roses above. Near, a high vase of lavenler Canterbury bells gave dis-tinctive color. The dining room was wreather in smilax, on the sideboard were yellow snapdragon and at the rear of the room nasturtiums bright-ened the ferns and foliage. The ta-ble was most attractive with sweet peas, and roses, suspended above were smilax and sweet peas.

A Hartford caterer served the guests

The bride's gift to the matron of honor was a diamond and pearl pin, to the maid of honor diamonds and spphire; gold bracelet and sleevelinks to the children. Among the beautiful gifts was a tea and coffee service from the family, a set of Beleek ware, rock crystal, cut glass, choice ptctures, lace trimmed sets of linen, rare pieces of gold plate and silver.

The bride's going away gown was of gray tweed. Mr. and Mrs. Bond will take a ten days motoring trip before leaving for the California exposition. They will reside in New London.

Mrs. Bond was the widow of Dr. George T. Howland, a prominent Washington physician. Mr. Bond is ecretary and treasurer of the New ondon ship and engine works. He is a graduate from the Norwich Free Academy, class of 1892, and of Yale, 1896. He is prominent in po-litical life in New London, having been alderman, and is the candidate for nomination by the republicans for mayor at the next election. Mrs. Be who is a native of Norwich, is also graduate from the Norwich Fre Academy and from Farmington school Among the more than 300 guests at the wedding were the members of the corkery, driving about the city who came here on a special train. Mr. and becoming acquainted with the Bond is a member of the club. They made a wedding gift of a large loving cup.

The ushers at the wedding were Grosvenor Ely, Robert Brewer of Hingham and Frank C. Norton of Renovations in the Building-Wiring Bridgeport.

Those who attended from out of town included Mr. and Mrs. Morton F. Plant, Brandford house, Eastern Point; Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Brewer, Hingham; ex-Governor Z. R. TWO OAR WIELDERS WERE SENT TO JAIL Judge Kelly Had Long Case For His Final Day In City Court.

In the city court on Wednesday morning where Judge Thomas J. Kel-ley was presiding for the last day of his term as he was to be succeeded the next day by Judge John H. Barnes, Peter Supinski and Raffel Dubeke were presented on the charge of beat-ing Frank Covinski with an oar. Covinski was in court with his head done up in bandages where a six inch cut in the top of his head had been sewed together. The testimony was taken through an interpreter and the taken through an interpreter and the accused were defended by Attorneys Edward T. Burke and Herman Alefsin 2nd. The session was a long one.

Each of the accused was sent to jail for 30 days and fined $25 and costs.

Judge Kelly made no valedictory remarks as he left the bench after the two years he has occupied this difficult place to fill. It is the general opinion that he has done this with pinion that he has done this with ability and has done his best to make the sentences he has been compelled to give corrective rather than oppresto give corrective rather than oppressive upon the wrong doers.

Clerk Mathewson has also shown ability in the duties of his office and has shown a kindly manner and fair disposition towards those whom the business of the office brought him in contact.

Another Norwich Case

It Proves That There's a Way Out foll Many Suffering Norwich Folks.

Just another report of a case in Norwich. Another typical case. Kidney ailments relieved in Norwich with Dodn's Kidney Pills. Mrs. Roland Ockery, 262 Frankling St., Norwich, says: "Pains in the small of my back caused me great suffering. Whenever I stooped, sharp, twinges darted through my body and I was handicapped in doing my housework. I felt miserable when I began using Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from N. D. Sevin & Son's Drug Store. Their good effect was soon noticeable and I continued taking them until the trouble was removed." NO MORE TROUBLE. Some years later Mrs. Ockery said#/ "You may continue to publish my former statement praising Doan's Kidney Pills. They cured me of kidney trouble and I have been in good health since. Others of my family have taken this remdy with good results." Price 50c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy - get Doan's Kidney Pills - the same that Mrs. Ockerey had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.
